MISSISSIPPI INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING
NURSING EDUCATION

Nursing education in Mississippi is regulated by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning (IHL) for registered nurse (RN) programs at the Associate, Baccalaureate, Master and Doctoral degree educational levels (Miss. Code [1991 Supp.] § 37-129-1, et seq.). The Mississippi Community College Board (MCCB) regulates the practical nursing programs in the state.

Registered nursing programs in Mississippi must be state approved and nationally accredited by one of two national, non-profit accrediting bodies, Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN) and Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). National accreditation of nursing programs is desirable because of the quality of standards, emphasis placed on outcomes, and importance in the national marketplace for recruiting faculty and students.

The Nursing Education Opportunities in Mississippi publication, developed in partnership between IHL Nursing Education and the Mississippi Council of Deans and Directors of Schools of Nursing (MCDDSN), provides a snapshot of the state’s twenty-three Schools of Nursing and the types of programs offered. Geographically located throughout the state, the nursing schools provide those who are interested in pursuing a career in nursing the opportunity to attend a college or university near home.

For additional information, please visit the IHL Nursing Education website http://www.mississippi.edu/nursing/ or the MCCB website http://www.mccb.edu.

Sincerely,

Janette S. McCrory, DNP, RN
Director of Nursing Education
Dear Nurse of the Future,

On behalf of the Mississippi Council of Deans and Directors of Schools of Nursing (MCDDSN), I commend you for your interest in nursing as a career choice. Nursing, as both an art and a science, consists of many exciting and rewarding choices that encompass autonomous and collaborative patient care for all ages, families, communities, and settings. I am especially pleased that you are exploring such opportunities right here in the great state of Mississippi.

The Nursing Education Opportunities in Mississippi publication provides you, as a future nurse, with a comprehensive overview of the many different nursing programs throughout our state. Basic information is provided related to practical (PN), associate (ADN), baccalaureate (BSN), master (MSN), and doctoral (DNP &PhD) nursing programs. Information has been provided to assist the novice nurse beginning the educational career, to the most experienced nurse desiring to develop new skills as an advanced practice clinician, educator, administrator or researcher through lifelong learning. Additionally, descriptions of each level of nursing preparation, identification of Mississippi schools offering the diverse levels of nursing preparation, and general admission criteria, including scholarship opportunities, have all been provided.

The Council expresses appreciation to the Mississippi Institutions of Higher Learning (IHL) and its Director of Nursing Education for the commitment to nursing education throughout the state. Wishing you much success!

Sincerely,

Joan Hendrix, DNP, RN
Mississippi Council of Deans and Directors of Schools of Nursing
Chairperson, 2016-2017

NURSING EDUCATION IN MISSISSIPPI

There are six types of nursing programs in Mississippi. Two types of programs prepare graduates to be eligible to take the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN ®). These are the Associate Degree Nursing Programs and the Baccalaureate Degree Nursing Programs. Practical Nursing Programs prepare graduates to be eligible to take the National Council Licensure Examination for Practical Nurses (NCLEX-PN ®). A fourth program provides nurses with a Master’s Degree in Nursing. The fifth program in Mississippi prepares nurses with a Doctor of Philosophy Degree (Ph.D.) in Nursing. The sixth and newest nursing education program in Mississippi prepares nurses with a Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP).

The associate degree programs are located in 15 community or junior colleges and two public universities. The eight baccalaureate degree programs are located in five public universities and three private universities/colleges. Five of the six master’s degree program, two of the three Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in nursing and four of the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) programs are located in public universities. The 6th master’s degree program and 3rd PhD in nursing program is located in a private university (Table I). In addition to the academic programs, the University of Mississippi Medical Center School of Nursing is an approved CE provider.

The title Registered Nurse (RN) means that a person has graduated from an approved School of Nursing, passed the national licensing examination for registered nurses and paid a fee to practice within the state. The parameters of practice are set by law, and the control of practice is vested with the Mississippi Board of Nursing. A person may not use the title RN or practice as a nurse until the licensing examination is passed.

The state accreditation of degree programs of nursing in Mississippi is vested by state law in the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning. State accreditation of a nursing program is necessary for a graduate of that program to be eligible to take the licensing examination for RNs. State accreditation in nursing education aims to protect the autonomy and individuality of the various educational programs it serves, to provide accountability for the protections of public against ill-prepared nurses, and to assist in the transfer of students and graduates form one program to another. In order to accomplish this mission, the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning has established “Mississippi Nursing Degree Programs Accreditation Standards”, which all nursing programs must meet. The criteria established by the Board of Trustees for admission into nursing programs are found in Tables II, III and IV. These are minimal criteria and some schools may have standards which are higher. The standards of each school will be found in its school catalog. Movement from one level of nursing to a higher level is possible through articulation. Articulation is the process by which a person with one level of licensure or education is facilitated in the advancement of licensure or educational credentials. It is possible within the state of Mississippi for LPNs to obtain their RN license and for RNs to obtain a baccalaureate, master’s degree, and doctoral degree. For specific information regarding articulation policies and procedures, contact individual colleges or universities listed in this brochure.

Practical nursing programs are located in public community/junior colleges and one private college. All of the community/junior colleges which have associate degree nursing programs also have practical nursing programs. Practical nursing programs are under the supervision of the Mississippi Community College Board. Inquiries concerning these programs should be directed to that office. Admission criteria for practical nursing programs are located in Table V.

1. Practical Nursing Programs (PN)

Scope of Practice: The practical nursing program prepares the individual to assist in providing general nursing care requiring basic knowledge of the biological, physical, behavioral, psychological and sociological sciences, and of nursing procedures which do not require the substantial skills, judgment, and knowledge of a registered nurse. This care is performed under the direction of a registered nurse, licensed physician, or dentist.

Length and Type of Curriculum: The practical nursing program is located in 15 community/junior colleges and one private college, and is a 12-month certificate program. Successful completion of the program allows the graduate to apply for LPN licensure.

Places of Employment: Hospitals, nursing homes, doctors’ offices, and home health agencies.
2. Associate Degree Nursing Programs (ADN) prepare nurses at the basic level of entry for professional nursing practice.

Scope of Practice: AD nurses are the first level of professional caregivers. The practice of AD nursing is directed toward the promotion and protection of health and the prevention of illness for clients with both physiological and psychosocial needs across the life span. These nurses are prepared to perform a range of complex interventions safely and competently in an integrated health care system. AD nurses participate in the management of nursing care including client teaching and supervision of ancillary nursing personnel.

Length and Type of Curriculum: This nursing education pathway is available in 15 community/junior colleges and two public universities. The program is two years in length, with the graduate receiving an Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, or Associate of Applied Science Degree.

Places of Employment: All health care settings.

Location of Programs: Alcorn State University, Coahoma Community College, Copiah-Lincoln Community College, East Central Community College, East Mississippi Community College, Hinds Community College, Holmes Community College, Itawamba Community College, Jones County Junior College, Meridian Community College, Mississippi Delta Community College, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College, Mississippi University for Women, Northeast Mississippi Community College, Northwest Mississippi Community College, Pearl River Community College, and Southwest Mississippi Community College.

3. Bachelor of Science in Nursing Programs (BSN), sometimes called “Baccalaureate Degree Nursing Programs”, prepare professional nurses.

Scope of Practice: The professional nurse can practice in a variety of health care settings involving individuals, families, and communities. This nurse can assess patient needs in stable and in changing situations, plan and evaluate methods of meeting these needs, and teach and supervise beginning research skills in providing patient care in health care settings.

Length and Type of Curriculum: This nursing education program is located in five public universities and three private universities/colleges. It is four years in length, with the graduate receiving a Bachelor of Science in Nursing Degree.

Places of Employment: Community health agencies, industrial settings, hospitals, nursing homes, doctors’ offices, clinics, and armed services.
Location of Programs: Alcorn State University, Belhaven University, Delta State University, Mississippi College, Mississippi University for Women, University of Mississippi Medical Center, University of Southern Mississippi and William Carey University.

4. Master’s Degree Nursing Programs: Nurse specialists are prepared for leadership roles in health care delivery systems and for collaboration with others interested in health care. They are involved in nursing research, surveys of the health needs of society, and in developing new approaches to prepare nurses to meet these needs. They are prepared to function in teaching, administration, or clinical practice as clinical nurse specialists, nurse practitioners, or nurse anesthetists. The specific parameters of practice in an expanded role in Mississippi are defined by law by the Mississippi Board of Nursing.

Length and Type of Curriculum: This nursing education program is located in five public universities and one private university, varying in length from one to two years, with the graduate receiving a Master of Science or Master of Science in Nursing Degree. Nurse Practitioners and Nurse Anesthetists must take and pass a national certification examination and meet the requirements of the Mississippi Board of Nursing in order to practice.

Places of Employment: Nursing education programs, hospitals, community health agencies, private practice, and doctors’ offices.

Location of Programs: Alcorn State University, Delta State University, Mississippi University for Women, University of Mississippi Medical Center, University of Southern Mississippi and William Carey University.

5. Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Nursing Programs prepares professional nurse specialists at the highest postsecondary degree level.

Scope of Practice: Ph.D. nurses are prepared for leadership roles in complex health care delivery systems, educational systems, nursing and interdisciplinary research and unique nursing practice.
Length and Type of Curriculum: The length of time required for Ph.D. education in nursing ranges from two to seven years or more and is individually determined.

Places of Employment: Colleges and universities, medical centers, integrated health delivery systems, corporations, government agencies private foundations, consultant practices, and entrepreneurial endeavors.

Location of Programs: University of Mississippi Medical Center, University of Southern Mississippi and William Carey University.

6. Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) in Nursing Programs prepares professional nurse specialists at the highest postsecondary degree level.

Scope of Practice: DNP nurses are prepared for leadership roles in complex health care delivery systems, educational systems, nursing and interdisciplinary research and unique nursing practice.

Length and Type of Curriculum: The length of time required for DNP education in nursing is two years or more and is individually determined.

Places of Employment: Colleges and universities, medical centers, integrated health delivery systems, corporations, government agencies private foundations, consultant practices, and entrepreneurial endeavors.

Location of Programs: Delta State University, Mississippi University for Women, University of Mississippi Medical Center and University of Southern Mississippi.

Minimum admission criteria for associate degree nursing programs are as follows:

1) An ACT composite score of 18 and a 2.0 GPA.

2) Students without the required ACT composite score must have completed a minimum of 12 semester hours in the nursing major, including Anatomy and Physiology, with at least a grade of “C” and have a minimum 2.5 GPA before being admitted.

3) All students must satisfy a criminal history background check.

4) Each school is permitted an allowance of 10 percent of the previous fall’s nursing program admissions for high risk students who do not meet the criteria.
TABLE III
ADMISSION CRITERIA/BACCALAUREATE DEGREE
NURSING PROGRAMS*

Minimum admission criteria for bachelor degree nursing programs are as follows:

1) An ACT composite score of 21. Students with the required ACT composite score must also have at least a grade of “C” in each course prerequisite to the nursing major and a 2.0 GPA.

2) Students without the required ACT composite score must complete all the course prerequisites to the nursing major with at least a grade of “C” and have a GPA of 2.5.

3) Students with a registered nurse (R.N.) license may enter without an ACT by completing all the course prerequisites to the nursing major with at least a grade of “C” and have a GPA of 2.0.

4) Baccalaureate nursing programs in private educational institutions may establish admission criteria which support the goals and aims of their institution.

5) All students must satisfy a criminal history background check.

6) Each school is permitted an allowance of 10 percent of the previous fall’s nursing program admissions for high risk students who do not meet the criteria.
TABLE IV
ADMISSION CRITERIA/GRADUATE DEGREE NURSING PROGRAMS*

Minimum admission criteria for graduate degree nursing programs (MSN & DNP) are as follows:

1) An analytic score of at least 3.0 on the Graduate Records Exam (GRE).

2) Minimum 3.0 GPA for the most recent nursing degree.

3) Private educational institutions may establish admission criteria which support the goals and aims of their institution.

4) All students must hold an unencumbered registered nurse (R.N.) license to practice in the state in which the student will perform clinical.

5) All students must satisfy a criminal history background check.
TABLE V
ADMISSION CRITERIA/PRACTICAL NURSING PROGRAMS

There are no minimum statewide admission requirements for entrance into practical nursing programs.

Each college has the authority to set its own minimum admission criteria; therefore, it is very important that anyone interested in becoming a licensed practical nurse check with each school to understand what is required for admission.

Minimum admission criteria may include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) ACT composite score of 16 - 18, with a sub-score range of 12 – 18 in Reading and Math.

(2) Course pre-requisites such as Human Growth and Development, Anatomy and Physiology I & II, Sociology, Medical Terminology, etc.

(3) TEAS V, HESI, Kaplan, or other nursing school entrance tests with school-set minimum scores.

Check admission requirement at each school to determine what is required for entrance into the practical nursing program. Websites for the 15 public community/junior colleges and private college can be accessed from the Mississippi Community College Board website: www.mccb.edu.

MISSISSIPPI NURSE OF THE FUTURE COMPETENCY MODEL

The Mississippi Nurse of the Future Competency Model is the culmination of a collaborative effort of many nursing leaders in the state and one outcome of the Mississippi Council of Deans and Directors of Schools of Nursing (MCDDSN) Education Redesign Taskforce (ERTF) initiative. The 2011 adoption of this model demonstrates the MCDDSN’s most recent implementation of a successful model that defines core competencies for entry-level nursing practice. The MCDDSN is committed to continuous quality improvement in nursing education, including preparing nurses of the future with competencies for effective nursing practice and leadership to advance health care.

In 1997, Mississippi was one of the first states to develop and adopt a competency model. The desired outcomes of this model were to enhance the education and practice of Mississippi nurses, facilitate articulation across nursing education programs, and assist employers in understanding the differences in expected skill sets based on educational degrees. Competencies were identified according to roles of nurses with varying educational backgrounds encompassing LPN, ADN, BSN, and MSN preparation. In 2002, the Mississippi Competency Model was revised to include PhD competencies. Schools of nursing have used the Model as a basis for designing curricula and policies to improve the articulation among educational programs and upward mobility in nurses in Mississippi.

The MCDDSN Strategic Plan for Education Redesign, developed in 2009 and updated annually, provides the framework and guidance for Mississippi’s continued work to address the changing demographics and societal needs for nursing and healthcare in an increasingly complex healthcare environment. The Strategic Plan depicts nursing education priorities, resources needed, short-term and long-term outcomes. One track of work emanating from the 2010 strategic plan was the appointment of the Education Redesign Task Force (ERTF), charged with:

1. Updating the MS Competency Model with core competencies for the nurse of the future;
2. Reviewing best practice models for curriculum redesign;
3. Creating models for seamless academic progression across education levels, and;
4. Facilitating voluntary implementation of a state-wide curriculum model that integrates essential competencies for nursing practice.

The ERTF brought together statewide stakeholders in nursing education and practice to review national recommendations and guidelines for nursing practice, national nursing education accreditation standards and other state competency models. The initial review by stakeholders spearheaded focus group sessions among practice partners to identify gaps between the 1997 competencies and core competencies for future nursing practice. The outcome of the critical analysis of existing documents and stakeholder meetings led to the eventual adoption of the Nurse of the Future Nursing Core Competencies© (Massachusetts Department of Higher Education Nursing Initiative, 2010) as the Mississippi Nursing Competency Model: Nurse of the Future Nursing Core Competencies, to replace the existing 2002 model.

The MS Nursing Competency Model identifies the ten Nurse of the Future (NOF) Nursing Core Competencies and the knowledge, attitudes and skills associated with each. The competencies are designed to guide curriculum development and implementation in pre-licensure nursing programs. The model provides the foundation for further development of depth and scope of the competencies for advanced nursing practice at the master’s and doctoral levels. To download a copy of the Mississippi Nursing Competency Model: Nurse of the Future Nursing Core Competencies, go to http://www.iteachnursingms.org/
SCHOLARSHIPS

There are many ways to finance nursing education on the federal, state, and college levels. A brief listing of name and/or scholarships, grants, and loans is given below. Specific scholarship information on funding nursing education in Mississippi may be obtained by contacting the Mississippi Office of Student Financial Aid Office at the Institutions of Higher Learning, the Mississippi Hospital Association, and/or the colleges or universities listed in this brochure.

Some web sites that may be helpful are:

- Fastaid – http://www.fastaid.com/

National/Federal Level

Federal financial aid programs include: Pell Grants, Stafford Loans, Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants, Perkins Loans, PLUS loans for parents, Nursing Student Loans, Students from Disadvantaged Background, Loan Repayment in Shortage Areas, SUPEN. To apply for federal aid, students must complete a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). Visit https://fafsa.ed.gov/ for more information.

In addition to these federal programs, the United States Armed Forces and the Veterans Administration have scholarships providing up to full tuition and expenses for nursing education. Contact the nurse recruiter in the various branches for more specific information.

The American Association of Colleges of Nursing provides a list of scholarship and financial aid resources for undergraduate, graduate and post-graduate nursing students (http://www.aacn.nche.edu/students/financial-aid#aacn). The National Black Nurses Association also offers scholarships. Visit http://www.nbna.org for more information.
State

The state Nursing Education Loan/Scholarship Program includes awards for students pursuing BSN, RN to BSN, MSN, RN to MSN, DNP or PhD degrees. There is also the Nursing Teacher Stipend Program (NTSP) for students planning to teach in an accredited school of nursing in Mississippi. Information about loan/scholarship programs from the IHL may be obtained from http://riseupms.com/state-aid/, email at sfa@mississippi.edu or by calling 601-432-6997 or 1-800-327-2980 (toll free in Mississippi).

Nursing Education Scholarships may also be available from Mississippi Hospitals and Agencies (See Table VI for the listing of agencies that may provide nursing scholarships) for the Mississippi Nurses’ Association (RNs only). Information about other loan/scholarship programs may be obtained from listed agencies.

College/University Level

Each college or university has various sources of scholarships and loans to fund nursing education including private agencies, endowments, and work-study. For more information, contact the financial aid office or school of nursing of your choice.
